Young Men's Christian Association. [Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch, LEXINGTON, November 16, 1885. One of the largest funeral processions ever seen in Rockbridge passed through our streets this morning. At the head of the procession were three hearses, containing the bodies of Mrs. Richard Nuckolls (formerly Miss Ida Roberts, of Roanoke county), and Misses Maggie and Susie Bare, daughters of Mr. Adam Bare, all of this county, whe were drowned last Saturday afternoon while attempting to cross the river in a beat some two miles below town. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Irwin, of the Presbyterian church, and Rev. Dr. Tay-lor, of the Baptist church. The corps of cadets at the Virginia Military Institute this session is said to be of unusually fine material. Last Saturday being the forty-sixth anniversary of the Institute, the usual acadenric duties were suspended, and a salute of forty-six guns was fired. In the general order issued by General Swith the following interesting state-ment is made: In the forty-six years passed away forty-six classes have been admitted, numbering nearly 4,000 ca-dets, and of these 1,305 have been graduated. Of the 32 cadets constiouting the first class admitted, only t remain, 4 having fallen in battle. The survivors are Colonel Ed. Pendleton, General W. M. Elhott, V. C. Saunders, O. M. Knight, and Louis A. Gernett and H. Barclay, Esq.

The mortuary record of the faculty shows three killed in battle: General Stonewall Jackson, General R. E. Rhodes, Colonel S. Crutchfield; while Commodore M. F. Maury, Colonel J. W. Mass's, Colonel William Gilham, Colonel W. D. Washington, and Surgeon R. L. Madison died from disease partly superinduced by the exhausting exposures, labors, and cares of a state of war.

Of the eleves of the school, the record shows about 200 killed in battle, over 175 professors and teachers, 140 civil and mining engineers, 125 merchants, 94 farmers and planters, 60 physicians, 30 clergymen, and 20 bank-

It was announced this morning that there would be no court to-day. The people came as usual, as it was regular Connty-Court day, to find to their surprise that the county was without a judge. This happened by a singular miscalculation on the part of the Judge, who was a victim of misplaced confidence. He was a candidate for the Senate, and was se-certain of his election that he had tendered his resignation, to take effect on the 2d of November. But, lo! and behold! he waked up November 4th to find that he had been ingloriously defeated by his Democratic opponent.
